VOLUME 17 – FALL 2012

“SERIAL” FINISHED

In my family, food is love. Ask a Scheuring kid about a holiday, and the first thing we'll talk about is the food. I have very fond memories watching Saturday morning cartoons with my brother, both of us munching away on overflowing bowls of cereal. Of course, we made our cereal selection decisions based on which brand had the coolest prize. Freakies cereal always seemed to have the best toy. But, Cap'n Crunch Crunch Berries was my favorite. There's a great story about the genesis of this painting of my son, Cole, and cereal merchandise. Was inspired by a conversation we had while watching TV. Get the full story behind this painting at my website, SteveScheuringFineArt.com. Go to "Artwork," then select "Giclées," then select this painting from the thumbnails.

Hi everyone. Lot's of great stuff in the works. Recently completed "Serial." Participated in a great show at the Goggleworks in Reading. Was named a finalist in this year's Artist's Magazine competition. And, am having a bunch of fun working on my latest Christmas-themed painting. I'm continually encouraged by your feedback and support. Thanks,

Steve Scheuring

STEVE IN BERKS ART ALLIANCE SHOW AT GOGGLEWORKS

Had two pieces – “Serial” and “Gridlock” - featured in the Berks Art Alliance Show this Summer at the Goggleworks in Reading. This was the first time both pieces were exhibited publically. The Berks Art Alliance always puts on a great show – there’s some excellent, talented artists in my hometown area – and was pleased to be back this year.

NEW PAINTING “MOM AND DAD”

My parents recently celebrated their 50th Anniversary. Was able to paint this portrait of them to commemorate the occasion. The picture that I used as a reference was taken during my wedding, 20 years ago – my parents were celebrating their 30th Anniversary at that time. Love how casual they are in this pose. We recently presented this painting to my parents at a 50th Anniversary luncheon.

STEVE A FINALIST IN THE ARTIST'S MAGAZINE'S ANNUAL COMPETITION

This is my sixth time as a finalist in this magazine's prestigious competition. “A Pile of Soldiers” was selected in the still life/floral category. Finalists will be mentioned in the magazine's December issue, on news stands soon.

“CHEERLEADER” DRAWING

Recently completed this colored pencil drawing of a Philadelphia Eagles cheerleader. Got some great reference photos at one of their games. Spare me the jokes – yes, I did watch the game.
